Your Income Protection Plan Benefits

The Verizon Income Protection Plan (IPP or the Plan) for New England Associates covered by the collective bargaining agreement with the International Brotherhood of Electrical Workers (IBEW) is a form of employee benefit plan maintained by Verizon Communications Inc. (the Company) and its participating companies to assist associate employees who separate from service under specific circumstances.

About This SPD

This book is the summary plan description (SPD) for the Verizon Income Protection Plan for New England Associates represented by the IBEW, a Plan subject to federal law under the Employee Retirement Income Security Act of 1974 (ERISA) and its subsequent amendments. This book meets ERISA's requirements for an SPD and is based on Plan provisions effective January 1, 2001. It updates and replaces all previous SPDs and other descriptions of the benefits provided by this Plan.

This SPD is divided into the following major sections:

- Participating in the IPP. This section explains eligibility for the Plan and when eligibility begins and ends.
- Receiving Plan Benefits. This section describes the circumstances under which you can receive Plan benefits, the amounts you're eligible to receive and the application process.
- Additional Information. This section provides additional details about the administrative provisions of the Plan and your legal rights.

Important Note

Verizon and its claims and appeals administrators have the discretionary authority to interpret the terms of this SPD and determine your eligibility for benefits under its terms.

Getting More Information

If you have questions about how other benefits are affected by the IPP, refer to the SPD for the individual benefit. If you have questions after reading the SPDs, call the claims administrator at the telephone number listed on your Important Benefits Contacts insert.

Every effort has been made to ensure the accuracy of the information included in this SPD, which constitutes part of the Plan document, as amended and restated effective January 1, 2001. Copies of Plan documents are available by contacting the Plan administrator in writing at the address provided on page 18 in the “Additional Information” section.

Changes to the Plan

While the Company expects to continue the Plan indefinitely, the Verizon Employee Benefits Committee (VEBC), formerly named the Bell Atlantic Corporate Employees’ Benefits Committee, also reserves the right to amend, modify, suspend or terminate the Plan at any time, at its discretion, with or without advance notice to participants, subject to any duty to bargain collectively. The Plan may be amended by publication of any SPD, summary of material modification, enrollment materials or other communication relating to the Plan, as approved by the chairperson of the VEBC or an individual in a Director level position or above in the employee benefit design or delivery or the communications branch of the Company’s Human Resources organization.

Decisions regarding changes to, or terminations of, benefits are made at the highest levels of management. Verizon employees below those levels do not know whether the Company will adopt any particular change and are not in a position to speculate about such changes. Unless and until changes formally are adopted and officially are announced, no one is authorized to assure that any particular change will or will not occur.

Participating in the IPP

Eligibility

You are covered under the IPP if you are a New England associate employed by a participating company (see page 20) and you meet these conditions:

- You are a regular full-time or part-time, non-salaried associate.
- You are covered by an IBEW collective bargaining agreement or you are a nonbargained associate.
- You have at least one year of net credited service (as defined under the Verizon Pension Plan for New York and New England Associates).

You are not eligible for participation in the Verizon Income Protection Plan for New England Associates if you are a salaried management employee.

Note: If a court, the Internal Revenue Service or any other enforcement authority or agency finds that an independent contractor or leased employee should be treated as a regular employee of a participating company, for example, for purposes of W-2 income reporting or tax withholding, such individual is nonetheless expressly excluded from the definition of eligible employee and is expressly ineligible for benefits under the Plan.

Conditions for IPP Benefits Eligibility

When the Company notifies the Union in writing that a surplus exists, eligible employees in the affected job titles and work locations may elect (limited to the number of declared surplus) to accept the Company's offer to separate voluntarily from service with Verizon and receive IPP benefits.

A participating company will accept an eligible employee's application to separate voluntarily from service in exchange for benefits under this Plan. In such a case, the participating company will accept only the number of applications that the Company determines is necessary to relieve a declared force surplus condition. Applications will be accepted in seniority order.

When Eligibility Ends

Coverage ends under the following circumstances:

- You terminate employment, including retirement
- You change to an ineligible job status or title, for example, you are assigned to a salaried position.

Receiving IPP Benefits

When Benefits Are Paid

If you're covered under the IPP, you're eligible to receive an IPP benefit after your application to volunteer to leave the service of the Company is accepted and you separate from employment with Verizon. You will be notified in advance if the Company determines that business needs warrant a reduction in force or reassignment of jobs that results in the elimination or change in your job.

In all cases, the Company has the sole discretion to determine the following:

- The job titles and work locations where a surplus exists
- The number of associates in each job title and location who are considered to meet surplus conditions.

Applying for Plan Benefits

When the Company makes you a written offer to voluntarily leave the service of the Company and receive IPP benefits, you must notify the Company in writing of your intent to do so within 30 calendar days of the date the Company makes you the offer. Applications are accepted based on associate seniority. Your application for benefits—and the Company's offer—cannot be revoked after the 30-day period.

The number of associates who choose to separate and receive Plan benefits cannot exceed the number of associates who are determined to warrant a reduction in force.

How Benefits Are Determined

IPP Payments

IPP payments provide you with a benefit based on your years of net credited service. Depending on the circumstances, the Company may offer you a “regular” allowance or an “enhanced” allowance:

- Under provisions for a regular allowance, you will receive $1,100 for each complete year of net credited service you have, up to and including 30 years of service. The maximum benefit is $33,000.
- Under provisions for an enhanced allowance, you will receive $2,200 for each year of net credited service—up to and including 30 years of service. The maximum enhanced allowance you can receive is $66,000.

All Plan payments are taxable and subject to withholding taxes.

“Net credited service” for purposes of the application of IPP is the entire period of your continuous employment with the Company counted in completed years. If you’re a part-time associate, your years of net credited service are prorated according to the provisions stated in the Verizon Pension Plan for New York and New England Associates. Also, note that no termination, separation, layoff or similar allowances will be paid to an associate who elects to leave the service of the Company or becomes separated from the payroll and receives IPP payments.

How Your IPP Payments Are Paid

How and when you can receive your IPP payments (whether it’s a regular or enhanced benefit) depends on the amount you’re eligible to receive:

- If you’re eligible to receive $10,000 or less (prior to any applicable taxes), you’ll automatically receive your payment in a single lump-sum payment within 30 days of leaving the Company.

- If you're eligible to receive more than $10,000 (prior to any applicable taxes), you'll have two options for receiving your payment:

— Monthly payments for four years. Under this option, you receive 48 monthly payments, beginning with the month following the one in which you terminate employment with the Company. There are two exceptions. If you are within forty-eight (48) months of your 67th birthday, then the total amount of your monthly IPP payments will be paid to you over the number of months remaining until your 67th birthday. If you are age 67 or older, you will receive your IPP payment in one lump sum.

OR

— 50% payment immediately and the remainder monthly over four years. This payment option allows you to receive half of your IPP payment in a single payment within 30 days after you leave the Company. Then, you will receive the remainder of your benefit in 48 monthly payments (or under the age 67 rule as described above).

If your total allowance is greater than $10,000, you'll make your election of a payment option at the time you agree to accept the Company's offer through a signed agreement that indicates your irrevocable election for payment of your benefits.

Situations That May Affect Your Benefits

Certain circumstances could affect your benefits under the Plan. Here's a summary of the situations in which your benefits could be affected:

- If you're rehired by Verizon (including any subsidiary or affiliate) or if you are engaged in business with or employed by a business or enterprise that competes directly with Verizon within 48 months, your IPP payments will stop and any unpaid allowances permanently will be forfeited. If you were receiving 48 monthly payments (with no lump sum), no repayment is required. If you received a full lump sum or a partial lump sum and monthly payments, you must repay the excess of the amount you already received over the amount you would have received as monthly payments. Repayments will be made through payroll deductions in each payroll period at the rate of 10 percent of your basic weekly pay, unless you are employed by a competitor, in which case, repayment immediately is due.
- If you die before receiving all of your payments under the Plan, the balance will be paid in a lump sum to your estate.

Continuation of Other Benefits

Additional Information

Claims and Appeals Procedures

You may file a written claim regarding your benefits at any time. If your claim for benefits is denied, you will have an opportunity to appeal. The claims administrator is appointed by the chairperson of the Verizon Claims Review Committee (VCRC). The appeals administrator for the Plan is the VCRC or a successor appeals administrator that may in the future be appointed by the VCRC (see page 14 for the address).

The claims and appeals administrators have discretionary authority to:

- Interpret the Plan based on its provisions and applicable law and make factual determinations about claims arising under the Plan
- Determine whether a claimant is eligible for benefits
- Decide the amount, form and timing of benefits
- Resolve any other matter under the Plan that is raised by a participant or a beneficiary, or that is identified by either the claims or appeals administrator.

The claims and appeals administrators have sole discretionary authority to decide claims under the Plan and review and resolve any appeal of a denied claim. In case of an appeal, the claims and appeals administrators' decisions are final and binding on all parties to the full extent permitted under applicable law, unless the participant later proves that a claims or appeals administrator's decision was an abuse of administrator discretion.

Filing a Claim

You have the right under the Employee Retirement Income Security Act of 1974 (ERISA) and its subsequent amendments to file a claim if you believe you are entitled to benefits and benefits have been denied or incorrectly determined under the Plan.

To submit a claim, put your concern in writing, explaining in your own words your understanding of your benefit issue and provide any supporting information in writing to the claims administrator at the address on page 18.

Once you have documented your claim and submitted any further information that you believe should be taken into account by the claims administrator, the claims administrator has 90 days to process your claim after receiving it.

If the claims administrator needs additional information from you in order to process your claim, you will be given 180 days to supply the needed information. In that case, the claims administrator will have not less than 45 days from the date you supply the additional information or your 180-day period expires to make a decision on your claim.

If there are special circumstances requiring longer review, the claims administrator may take up to an additional 90 days to make a decision on your claim. The claims administrator will notify you in writing if more time is needed and of the final decision.

If Your Claim Is Denied

If your claim completely or partially is denied, a written notice of denial will tell you the specific reasons for the decision, the Plan provisions used to support the decision, a description of any outstanding materials needed to approve the claim and how you can appeal the decision.

Filing an Appeal

You may file an appeal if:

- You receive no reply to your original claim within the initial 90 days
- The time for a decision on your original claim was extended for an additional 90 days, and you receive no reply after the additional 90 days
- You receive written denial of all or part of the claim, and you want to appeal the denial.

You may appeal by submitting in writing a letter requesting an appeal and stating your concerns and any related facts to the following address:

Verizon Claims Review Committee
c/o Verizon Benefits Center
100 Half Day Road
P.O. Box 1457
Lincolnshire, IL 60069-1457

Your appeal letter must be received within 60 days after you receive the denial of your claim or failed to receive timely notice of a decision.

If you submit an appeal, you have the right to:

- Review pertinent Plan documents, which you can obtain as described on page 16.
- Send a written statement of the issues and any other documents in support of your claim to the appeals administrator.
- Request copies of written documents that are relevant to the appeal. There typically will be a reasonable charge per page.

Review of Your Appeal

The VCRC, as appeals administrator, will review your appeal of the denied claim and will make a decision within 60 days after receiving your written request for review. Your appeal will be decided by a different committee than the committee that decided your initial claim. Your appeal will be decided within 60 days after being received by the appeals administrator. However, if there are special circumstances that require additional time, the appeals administrator may extend the review by an additional 60 days (for a total of 120 days from receiving your appeal).

Normally, the appeals administrator will notify you of the decision in writing. However, if you do not receive a decision or notification within the appropriate time span, you should consider the appeal denied.

In case of an appeal, the appeals administrator's decision is final, conclusive and binding on all parties to the full extent permitted under applicable law, unless the participant or beneficiary successfully proves that the appeals administrator's decision was an abuse of discretion under the Plan. However, as a Plan participant, you may have further rights under ERISA after you have exhausted the claims and appeals process, as described in the next section.

Benefits under this Plan will be paid only if the claims and appeals administrator decide in their discretion that the applicant is entitled to them.

Rights of Participants Under ERISA

Under ERISA, you have the following rights:

- You may examine all Plan documents without charge. These include annual financial reports, Plan descriptions, collective bargaining agreement provisions pertaining to the Plan and all other official Plan documents and reports, including a copy of the latest annual report (Form 5000 Series) filed with the U.S. Department of Labor and available at the Public Disclosure Room of the Pension and Welfare Benefits Administration. The Plan administrator makes these documents available for examination free of charge at specified sites, such as Verizon work locations. For information, write to the Plan administrator:

100 Half Day Road
P.O. Box 1457
Lincolnshire, IL 60069-1457

Also, you may obtain copies of all Plan documents and other Plan information upon written request to the Plan administrator at the above address. Please include the full name of the Plan in your written request, along with your name, Social Security number, mailing address and telephone number. You may be charged 25 cents per page for documents that you request.

- You will receive a summary of the Plan's annual financial report. The Plan administrator is required by law to furnish you with a copy of this summary annual report.

In addition to creating rights for Plan participants, ERISA imposes duties upon the persons who are responsible for the operation of the Plan. The persons who operate your Plan, some of whom are named as "fiduciaries" of the Plan, have a duty to do so prudently and in the interest of you and other Plan participants and beneficiaries.

No one, including your employer, your union or any other person, may fire you or otherwise discriminate against you in any way to prevent you from obtaining a benefit or exercising your rights under ERISA. If your claim for a benefit is denied or ignored, in whole or in part, you have the right to know why this was done and to obtain copies of documents related to the decision without charge.

You have the right to have your claim reviewed and reconsidered on appeal, but your appeal must be timely. Under ERISA, there are steps you can take to enforce the previous rights.

For instance, if you request materials from the Plan administrator that you have a right to receive and do not receive them within 30 days, you may file suit in a federal court. In such a case, the court may require the Plan fiduciaries to provide the materials and pay you up to $110 a day until you receive the materials, unless the materials were not sent because of reasons beyond the control of the Plan administrator.

If you have a claim for benefits which is denied or ignored, in whole or in part, you may file suit in a state or federal court. In addition, if you disagree with the Plan's decision or lack thereof concerning the qualified status of a domestic relations order, you may file suit in federal court. If it should happen that Plan fiduciaries misuse the Plan's money or if you are discriminated against for asserting your rights, you may seek assistance from the U.S. Department of Labor or you may file suit in a federal court.

The court will decide who should pay court costs and legal fees. If you are successful, the court may order the person you have sued to pay these costs and fees. If you lose, the court may order you to pay these costs and fees (for example, if it finds your claim to be frivolous).

If you have any questions about the Plan, you should contact the claims administrator for which the Plan administrator has established for purposes of administering benefits and responding to questions of participants and beneficiaries. If you have any questions about this statement or about your rights under ERISA, you can contact the nearest office of the Pension and Welfare Benefits Administration, U.S. Department of Labor, listed in your telephone directory, or the Division of Technical Assistance and Inquiries; Pension and Welfare Benefits Administration; U.S. Department of Labor; 200 Constitution Avenue, NW; Washington, D.C. 20210.

You also may obtain certain publications about your rights and responsibilities under ERISA by calling the publication hotline of the Pension and Welfare Benefits Administration.
